

ED ANTOJA

Writer, producer and director trained at New York University, the Cuban Film School and the University of California, at the age of 26 Ed founded La Diferència, his own production company, from where, for over 20 years, he has produced and directed advertising campaigns for brands and film and television projects.

He has also directed the documentaries "When a Dream Comes True", which was the only Spanish project of its promotion selected for DOC CAMPUS, where it won the award for best pitch in Leipzig, and can be seen on Netflix; and "Empatía", released in cinemas in Spain, France and Latin America, winner of the Audience Award at the Greenpeace Film Festival, and broadcast on television in Europe, the United States and Latin America.

Most relevant projects as scriptwriter, producer and director:

- 2017 - Documentary EMPATHY
 - Released in theatres in Spain (5 weeks in Barcelona and Madrid).
 - Winner of the Audience Award at the Greenpeace Film Festival in France.
 - Winner of the Best Documentary Award KUALA LUMPUR ECO FILM FESTIVAL.
 - Currently on STARZ TV (USA), Señal Colombia (Colombia) and FILMIN (Spain).
- 2019 - Documentary WHEN A DREAM COMES TRUE
 - With the collaboration of TVC.
 - Broadcast on TVC (Catalonia) and RTP (Portugal).
 - Currently on NETFLIX.

Producer and director:

- 2024 - Short film DONDE SE QUEJAN LOS PINOS
 - Currently in distribution phase.
 - Shot at the beginning of 2024 and starring Ramón Barea, Francesc Orella, Almudena Amor and Víctor Solé.

