

Xesc Cabot - Atiende Films

Xesc Cabot (Vilassar de Mar, 1979) is an actor, director and producer. His passion for auteur cinema led him to found Atiende Films in 2013, a production company for which he co-directed with Pep Garrido the films "Sense sostre" (2019) and the feature-length documentary "Bustamante Perkins" (2013).

As a producer at Atiende Films, he has also made the feature films "Tacones sobre ruedas" (Pau Canivell, 2022) and "Un sol radiant" (Mònica Cambra and Ariadna Fortuny, 2024), the latter winner of the D'A Film Lab 2022, the D'A Film Festival Talent Award 2023 (Official Selection), the DAMA Award for Best Screenplay at the Gijón International Film Festival 2023, the Award for Best Cinematography at the Ibiza Film Festival and the Award for Best Acting for Nunu Sales at the Santander Film Festival 2023, among other selections and awards. He has also produced the short films "Nocturnas" (Pau Canivell, 2024), "Dol i fa sol" (Pep Garrido and Maria Besora, 2023) and "Vinguin les feres" (Manuela Matassini & Col·lectiu les Daines, 2024), all three of which have won several awards at national and international festivals. He is currently working on the production of the feature films "Tanit" (Pep Garrido) and "Apuntes para una ficción consentida" (Ana Serret), both in the final stages of shooting, and on the creation of the documentary "Un air de bonheur" (Alexandre Bré).
